WILLING TO SEE FREE FAIR TRIED

Stated Authoritatively Today President Board is Willing For Some Organization to Try it.

COUNTY COUNCIL MIGHT HELP

Indications Are That Fair Did Not Lose Anything This Year, But it Did Not Make Anything.

With the fair now a matter of history the directors and stockholders are wondering what is in store for next year. It is generally conceded that something must be done if the Rush county fair is to continue. It was stated today that the association probably broke even on the fair this year, but the question of next year is a matter that can only be guessed at with no certainty of success.

Several people have urged that the fair be made a free fair similar to that held at Connersville. The night fair held here the past two years has not proved a money maker, according to all reports. The only increased revenue is from concession men, it is stated. In regard to the free fair proposition, one of the directors stated today that the present fair board stood willing to turn the fair over to any group of men for next year to try out the free fair proposition.

This official of the fair board stated that the present management was willing to give the date to some organization that might be formed for the purpose of operating a free fair. The fair would be known as the Rush county fair and the date would be the same as in the past. If the experiment proved a success then it would be almost sure to continue as a free fair.

It was pointed out that the county council might be in favor of making an appropriation for a free fair since this body would not contribute to the fair as conducted in the past. At least one and possibly two members of the county council have expressed themselves as favorable to an appropriation for a free fair. The amount the county is entitled to give under the law would make about $2,300 and this amount would go a long way towards making the fair a success.

The present board of control does not believe it should be responsible for a free fair, according to one of the officers, but they are more than willing that some group of men or an organization take over the fair and operate it along this line next year. At the last meeting of the county council one member was heard to say that he would favor an appropriation if the fair would be turned into a free fair, as that at Connersville.

The books of the association for this year cannot be closed until some time yet, although the board will likely hold a meeting next Saturday. With the best week in several years the fair is expected to just about break even and instead of making money as it should, the board is said to feel slightly discouraged.

The county council meets next Tuesday to make appropriations for the year and if the free proposition is to be presented to this body for consideration, arrangements should be made with the present board to take over the fair.

Nogales, Ariz., August 30.—Unconfirmed reports circulated here today said General Villa had been assassinated as he slept.

The story caused Villa currency to touch a new low level mark among bankers.

DEAD AVIATOR WAS NATIVE OF GLENWOOD

George Williams, Who Was Killed Near Fort Wayne, Making Parachute Drop, to be Buried There.

SUSTAINED BROKEN NECK

The remains of George Williams, 23 years old, who was killed Saturday while making a parachute drop from a balloon at Sheldon, near Fort Wayne, will be brought to Glenwood Wednesday morning where burial will take place. Mr. Williams was born and reared at Glenwood and is well known there. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Williams, who now reside in Fort Wayne.

The young man met a tragic death. Williams was a successful balloonist and had made a perfect ascension to the height of about 1,000 feet. In making the parachute drop the wind carried him towards a woods. He saw what was coming and released the belt by which he was muckled to the parachute and dropped. He fell eighty feet into the top of a tree and crashed through the limbs to the ground. He sustained a broken neck and lived only a short time. He was unmarried and is survived by his parents and several brothers and sisters. Mrs. Catherine Beckett of Glenwood is the grandmother of young Williams.

It was stated that he had made more than five hundred successful ascensions.

ARE CLOSING IN ON FORT GRODNO

German Forces Capture Lipsk and a Second Force Approaches From the Southwest.

VON BESELER TRANSFERRED

(By United Press.)

Berlin, (By Way of London), Aug. 30.—Closing in upon the Russian fortress of Grodno, German forces have captured the city of Lipsk, twenty miles west of the Grodno fords.

A second German force is approaching Grodno from the southwest. Evacuation of the fortress, the last Slav stronghold defending the Warsaw-Petrograd railway, is expected before the end of the week.

General Von Beseler, conqueror of Antwerp and Novo Georgievsk, has been transferred to the operations in the Riga district, the war office said this afternoon. His forces have surrounded the bridge at Stribrichstadt.

COURT OPENS IN ANOTHER WEEK

Preparations Are Started For the September Term and Prospective Jurors Drawn.

NO HOLIDAY ON LABOR DAY

Changes in Court Room Expected to Improve Things—Jury Box Removed and Bench Moved Out

The summer vacation of the attorneys of the Rush county bar and for Judge Sparks is about over. The September term of the circuit court opens one week from today. The opening day of court falls on Labor day, but this is never observed in the court here as a holiday. The first day of the term will be given over to calling the docket and taking up of issues. There are no cases set for trial until Wednesday, but Judge Sparks may advance some case to an earlier hearing.

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the new term. The records in the clerk's office are all up and today the two juries, the petit and grand, were drawn. Under the law the jurors must be drawn on the Monday proceeding the opening of the term. No time has been set for either of the juries to report. It is not expected that the grand jury will be called until the term is well advanced as there was a grand jury the last term of court. There are no jury trials scheduled for the first week of the term.

The grand jury is composed of following men: M. L. Stewart, Noble township; J. W. Stoten, Center; George Power, Orange; Edgar Thomas, Anderson; Charles S. Winslow, Ripley; Claude C. Thompson, Union.

The jurors composing the petit jury are as follows: Frank Legg, Washington; George W. Lawson, Anderson; Robert Gilson, Center; W. B. Morris, Union; Conrad Kiser, Ripley; Jacob Hiner, Richland; Clarence Tevis, Orange; S. H. Logan, Noble; J. T. Seull, Orange; William Kirkpatrick, Rushville; Noah Moore, Posey; N. P. Taylor, Noble.

During the summer vacation the court room has been changed and re-arranged. The jury box has been done away with an whenever there is a jury trial the chairs will be placed there. The bench has been moved out from the north wall in order that the sheriff can get to his desk without having to go completely around the court room. The new arrangement was made at the suggestion of Judge Sparks and is expected to prove better than the old.

MAY TURN SLAV FLANK

Austro-German Drive May Cut Off 300,000 Russian Troops.

(By United Press.)

Berlin, (By Way of London), August 30.—Three hundred thousand Russian troops are in grave danger of being cut off entirely from the armies to the north by the new Austro-German offensive in the southeast.

The right wing of this Russian army is under heavy attack by flying columns of German cavalry and large bodies of Austrian infantry. The Austro-Germans are smashing hard at the Slav front between Kovel and Lusk, threatening to turn the enemy's flank.

TRIBUTE GIVEN GEORGE F. MULL

Marion County Bar Association Adopts Resolutions Expressing Regret at Lawyer's Death.

LAST FUNERAL RITES HERE

Body Laid to Rest in East Hill Cemetery Shortly After Five O'clock Sunday Afternoon.

The funeral of George F. Mull, was held at the Mull homestead in Manilla Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, the Rev. V. W. Tevis of this city preaching the funeral oration. The last rites were performed over the grave in East Hill cemetery shortly after five o'clock in the afternoon.

A deep tribute was paid to Mr. Mull by the Marion County bar association at a meeting held Saturday to pass a memorial on his death.

Charles Remster, former judge of the Marion circuit court, called the meeting to order and James M. Leathers, former judge of superior court, was chosen to preside. Ralph M. Ketcham acted as secretary. Among those who spoke in appreciation of Mr. Mull's career and personality were Mr. Leathers, Bernard Korbly, Maurice E. Tennant and William L. Taylor. A memorial committee was appointed as follows: Frank T. Edenharter, chairman; William L. Taylor, Frederick E. Matson, Henry Warum and Elmer W. Stout.

The resolutions expressed the opinion of the bar that Mr. Mull was of a lovable personal character and kept friends that he made professionally and socially, and that as a lawyer his standing was high. In regard to Mr. Mull's public career the resolutions said:

"He was public spirited and never shirked the duties of citizenship. He took an active interest in politics, was president of the Columbia Club in 1904 and for years treasurer of the Republican county central committee, but he never held public office nor sought it for himself.

"He was a man of great personal charm," reads the memorial. "He was modest to a degree and courteous always. He had a kind and lovable character which endeared him to all with whom he came in contact. He made many friends professionally and socially and kept them. He believed that to have a friend you must be a friend, and he acted on this principle throughout. His attitude toward persons of influence and authority, while always respectful, was at the same time always self-respecting and, to those not so favorably situated, his deportment was always generous and kindly; never overbearing or patronizing."

A tribute also was paid to his record as a lawyer and public-spirited citizen. It was noted that, despite the fact that he has been a sufferer from disease for several years, he always was optimistic and did not realize that death was near. Sympathy was conveyed to the members of Mr. Mull's family.

ANOTHER REPORT HERE

Said to Show Progress Being Made by Berlin in Arabic Case.

(By United Press.)

Washington, August 30.—Another Arabic report reached the state department today. It was from Ambassador Gerard, Berlin, and was thought to contain an account of the progress the admiralty was making in getting news from its U-boat commanders.

Secretary Lansing did not make it public, saying it threw no fresh light on the Arabic case.

GERMAN REPORT EXPECTED SOON

While Awaiting Word, President Wilson Prepares to Deal With British Order-in-Council

TWO TOPICS IN GERMAN NOTE

(By United Press.)

Washington, August 30.—Berlin's report of the Arabic case in particular and its communication concerning submarine warfare in general are expected at any time. Presidential Private Secretary Tumulty said today.

While awaiting this word from Berlin, President Wilson, is overhauling the various tentative drafts the administration plans to send to London dealing with the British order-in-council and contraband order.

It is thus he has been occupying much of the time he has been able to save from his many other duties, since it became practically certain that the German-American controversy would be settled satisfactorily.

SHOULD ADJUST THE DIFFERENCES

Admiral Von Tirpitz, Creator of Submarine Policy, Would Not Disavow Arabic Attack.

DESIRES FRIENDLY POLICY

By CARL W. ACKERMAN

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Berlin (By Way of The Hague), August 30.—Grand Admiral Von Tirpitz, creator of the German submarine policy, believes with the chancellor and the foreign secretary that all differences with America should be adjusted at once.

Von Tirpitz, it is understood, does not look with favor on former disavowal of the attack on the Arabic. He desires that most friendly relations be established, but is not yet convinced this end can only be attained by repudiating the act of one of his submarine commanders.

It is an absolute fact that Germany's viewpoint is as follows: First, Germany hopes that the American government will consider the informal representations already made to be sufficient until the report of the submarine commander is received.

Second, the question of whether the action of the submarine commander shall be disavowed must rest largely on this report.

Mary A. Shropshire has filed suit on a note against the estate of Micajah Shropshire, deceased, demanding $1,500.

FROST TO CLIMAX THE WET SEASON

Weather Man Not Content With Unseasonable Brand he's Been Sending, Offers Something New

SEEMS LIKE HE'S RIGHT

Farmers Get in Some Licks at Threshing Until Sunday Noon.—Corn May be Damaged Now.

FROSTS KILL CORN.

Lacrosse, Wis., August 30.—Heavy frost accompanied by a temperature that smashed all weather department records last night killed half of the corn and tobacco crops in Wisconsin and Minnesota, according to reports coming in today.

NEW AUGUST RECORD.

Chicago, August 30.—All Chicago records for cool August weather were broken today when the thermometer read 47 above zero at 6 a. m.

As a climax to the unseasonable weather the prognosticator has been offering for more than a month, he today informs a long suffering public that there will be clearing skies and a frost.

No one doubted his word today after doing a turn in the crisp fall air and taking a glance at the thermometer. Early indications were that he had hit it on the clearing sky proposition, too. The sun began to peep through between twelve and one o'clock and it appeared that the clouds were all going to leave.

Up to one o'clock this afternoon the mercury had not gone above fifty-six degrees. Thermometers this morning registered as low as fifty degrees above zero, which is rather cold weather for August.

The farmers are disgusted. After standing by and seeing their wheat crop spoiled, they have visions of seeing their corn crop damaged. They are all agreed that what they need is hot, dry weather for three weeks or a month. All sorts of things have been reported happening to the corn to give it a set-back.

In some fields, it is said, the ground is so soft from incessant rains that the least wind has caused the heavy stalks to topple over. Of course, corn that once falls down before it has matured, is worthless.

The excessive moisture has also caused the stalks to grow larger than usual and the ears have not developed as they should, it is stated. This is said to be true especially of the late corn—and there is much of that in the county. It will be remembered that due to uncertain weather conditions, the farmer who did not plant his corn very early last spring did not get it in until very late.

Farmers got in some good licks at threshing last week, many companies working up to Sunday noon when a heavy rain put an end to threshing for a day or two. Farmers adjoining the fair grounds were threshing and putting up hay last week while the fair was in progress.

Some threshing companies worked a wrinkle on the wet wheat. They threw out all the bundles on the outside of the shock and threshed the driest bundles first. Then they threshed the wet bundles and if they found the wheat too wet, they either put it in the barn and tried to dry it or saved it to feed to the hogs.

NO PEACE FOR STEEL INDUSTRY

Federal Commission in Report Says

Iron Workers and Erectors
Must Get Together.

BOTH SIDES MUST CONCEDE

Physical Force Will Not Establish

Fair Relations on Either Side

it is Pointed Out.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Aug. 30.—There cannot be peace in the structural steel industry under present conditions; the erectors' association and the officers of the structural bridge and iron workers must get together with idea of making concessions on both sides.

This epitomizes the recommendations made in the report of Luke Grant who investigated the situations. The report was published this afternoon.

Throat, the report emphasizes that facts unearthed tend to prove that in all the bitter fight between the steel workers and the employers, where in there was espionage, physical clashes and violence (the worst of the latter being the series of dynamiting, now history) both sides were equally to blame—that it was the old six of one and a round half dozen of the other.

Also, throughout, the report points out that "application of physical force will neither establish nor maintain just the fair relations between employers and employees." In this respect the report says: "Many instances might be cited in the industrial world, where the use of physical force has, for a time, won advantage for the side that has used it. Such gains, however, are temporary and do not make for permanent industrial peace.

"An employer may at times through force of circumstances be compelled to submit to certain conditions which he believes are unjust. Fear of violence and the destruction of property may cause him to make terms with a union against his will and business judgement. But if he is forced to submit through fear of business necessity, he will break from the restraint on the first opportunity.

"Workmen on the other hand may be compelled to submit to conditions which they regard as irksome, if the advantage is on the side of the employer. They submit sullenly, because they are compelled to do so by force of circumstances. Instead of co-operating with their employers under such conditions they are constantly looking for the day when they can turn the tables and get the upper hand.

"Force may subjugate one side or the other in an industrial dispute, but it will not remove discontent. It will not establish justice. When there is injustice there will be discontent.

"The abuse of power is not always on the side of the employer. Where unions are in complete control, abuses are as apt to develop as where the employers exercise absolute power."

During the campaign between structural iron workers and their employers, the report declares, there was too much uncompromising attitude on both sides. The ironworkers, it is declared, were the first to display an uncompromising attitude.

"But" continues the report, "when the union later realized its mistake and offered to compromise it was the American Bridge Company that assumed the uncompromising attitude."

It is pointed out that the structural iron worker, realizing he is out of work one-fourth of his time under normal conditions naturally through the union seeks to extend his trade jurisdiction as much as possible and prevent laborers from doing work he otherwise would do.

The fight was not alone one for "the open shop" but also, as the ironworkers believed, for the very life of the organization through which they were certain lay their only route to better wages. And the fight for open shop, the report says is at bottom, "a fight for the increased profits for the employers." Comparison of open shop scale is considerably lower. "The open shop policy as understood and practiced by the National Erectors' Association," declared the report, "means destruction of the union."

The report nally declares that the unions, finding themselves unmatched in their fight, "hit below the belt to turn the tide in their favor." But it is declared that the erectors were in a degree, responsible, "through their pernicious system of espionage and spy work in the halls of the unions."

FOREIGN DENTISTS ATTEND

Over 3,000 Delegates Registered at Pacific Meeting.

(By United Press.)

San Francisco, Aug. 30.—Dentists from all parts of the world are attending the Panama Pacific Dental Congress. With over 3,000 delegates already registered, this meeting is the largest in the history of the profession.

Both the Central and South American republics are fully represented, Chili alone sending 22 delegates. Japan is represented by 20.

The National Dental Association, numbering thousands of members, is represented on the program. Other dental organizations holding separate meetings are the California, Southern California, Utah and the International Dental Federation.

One of the interesting features of the congress is an exhibit showing the latest methods of treating the mouth and teeth.

TODAY'S HOOSIER ODDITY.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, August 30.—The recent funeral of a well-known woman here was attended by strange circumstances.

The funeral was delayed six days to await the arrival of a domestic long with the family.

When the funeral procession had started it was cut in two at a street intersection by another funeral going to another cemetery. Not seeing this error, half of the carriages followed the wrong funeral to the wrong cemetery.

When the procession in question arrived at the cemetery, it was discovered that the grave had been dug in the wrong lot and the funeral was postponed until the next day.

WONDER WORKERS

In the past there have been numerous Wonder Workers and miracles performed. In this present age there has been no wonder worker equal to Wolcott's Little Wonder Workers. For that tired feeling and run-down condition due to torpid liver and constipation which causes stomach trouble, jaundice, gall stones, nervous trouble, kidney difficulties, etc., they certainly work wonders. Easy to take because so small and besides one or two at a dose will act gently but freely without gripe and will not get you out of bed too early in the morning. Mr. Wolcott is sending these Little Wonder Workers all over the United States, only through the recommendations of those who have used them, as he has never spent any money advertising them up to this time. He wants more to know of their wonder working power, and will cheerfully refund the money if not more than satisfied with their work. 40 doses for 25 cents at Wolcott's Drug Store. 14516

WINONA OFFERED AT AUCTION SALE

Famous Assembly Under Hammer

Today as Last Step in Bankrupt Proceedings.

BRYAN WILL BE PRESIDENT

Promised to Become Head of Institution When Reorganization

is Made—Plan Arranged

(By United Press.)

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 30.—Winona Assembly, the home of one of the world's greatest chautauquas and the world's greatest bible conference was to be sold under the auctioneer's hammer today. It is a bankrupt institution.

When that hammer falls and Trustee Lloyd D. Claycombe announces the property sold, the institution will be entirely freed of its debt. It will then be ready to request of William Jennings Bryan that he fulfill his promise and become president of the assembly.

Mr. Bryan, who was an interested spectator at today's proceedings, awaited only the assurance that Winona is on a firm financial basis to announce his readiness to become president. His election may come within a week.

The announced plan for today was that a new organization composed largely of the old management and fortified by much new capital should bid in the Presbyterian institution at $100,000 the appraised valuation of the property. This appraisal was made on the basis of a Winona assembly not in existence. However, several million dollars are invested, and the property to be sold is declared worth many times the appraised valuation.

Winona assembly was declared to be bankrupt early this year in federal court. Schedules filed by creditors showed the debts to be about $900,000.

Br. Bryan gave his promise to become president of Winona several years ago, when he and Dr. Sol C. Dickey, general manager of Winona made a wide canvass, raising nearly $100,000 for re-organization purposes. Bryan withdrew his offer. Instead he recently gave substantial proof of his interest by pledging $1,000 towards the fund that will place the debt-ridden institution on a firm basis.

The plan of settlement already arranged, which will be carried out if the old management, dominates the new organization, provides for a distribution of all the property, excepting the auditorium, administration building, entrance building and a few others necessary for carrying on the business. Each creditor is to receive stock in the various big hotels, cottages, farms, lots and other property equal to his claim. These properties are expected to increase in value under property management.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these re- sistants, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sorrowful of face."

"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of medicinal origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'santal' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. If more people only knew it, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Santal tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unslightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowel—and a poisoned blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Santal tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Santal tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "santal tablet" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who are weary of the usual advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.

Santal tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "cathartic habit." Also, instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily, so gently, that are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpressiveness is another reason for the popularity of santal tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Druggists Review.

TO THE PURE ALL THINGS ARE PURE

Rev. A. D. Batchelor Says Only Evil-Mind Sees The Bad Instead of The Good Side

APPLIES THOUGHT TO LIFE

Sinful Persons Are Usually Suspicious And The Pure Are Unsuspecting.

To the pure all things are pure, but to the unpure in mind all things are unpure, was the thought the Rev. A. D. Batchelor carried out in his sermon at St. Paul's M. E. church Sunday night, speaking on the subject, "Conscience and Corruption."

The selected his text from Titus, 1:15: "To the pure all things are pure; but to them that are defiled and unbelieving nothing is pure; but both their mind their conscience are defiled. He said in part:

"The world takes on the color of our glasses. To one with an evil mind others will appear to be evil. The sinful are usually suspicious; the pure unsuspecting. Let us observe first, that the pure man puts a right construction on things. He views the life of everybody in the light of his own conscience. The defiled man reflects his corruption in his estimate of others. Selector in 'Sons of Strength' relates that he found a book in a secondhand book store which was well penciled by an unknown reader. He adds that the underscoring reflected a wholesome mind. For every virtuous sentiment and courtly word was marked. Later he picked up the same book in a library. It was penciled too. But the penciled betrayed a different type of mind. All that was unlovely, all that could prompt a corrupt imagery was underscored. To the pure all things are pure.

"The pure minded is free from consciousness. He will find something in every life to command. He will not seek to ruin another life with a damaging criticism. The bee extracts honey from the bitter plants. The pure finds something sweet and salutary in the lives of the worst men. It is more to our credit to approach a life on its best side. The caustic criticism that evil minded hurl at the lives of good men reminds one of the Arab who found a single white hair in the tuft of a lion's tale, and then proclaimed in verse something about 'him with the single white hair.' He began at the head and examined the whole carcass in verse—not a white hair anywhere but in the tuft of the tail. The poet said nothing about the power of the lion.

"The pure man has charity for the wrong-doer. He gives evidence of his purity when draws the mantle of charity over his brother's faults. Henry Ward Beecher said, 'Every man should keep a fair sized cemetery in which to bury the faults of his friends.' A painter who was commissioned to paint the picture of a Macedonian emperor, sketched his sovereign leaning on his elbow with his hand covering a hideous scar on his forehead. What would the emperor have thought if the painter had not only painted the scar, but also had magnified it. It is a sign of a pure mind to place the finger of charity upon the scars of our erring brethren.

"The pure has compassion for the transgressor. He sees the possibility of good in others. Jesus criticized no sinner but the hypocrite. He has compassion upon the sinner and the publican. He knew they were sick of sin and would gladly give it up could they find a place of confidence in the minds of men. But the hypocrite was not amenable to conscience. He saw only in Christ, while the despised sinner saw in him one who sympathized and could save. Christ's way was not the way of denunciation. He could have found many ugly sins in the lives of men which he could have pilloried and at which he could have pointed a finger of scorn.

"But his pure mind saw a better way. It was to reach men through his tenderness and sympathy. The scripture says of him that he would not break the 'bruised reed' or 'quenched the smoking flax.' He came not to condemn the world, but to save it. He knew he could not save it by scourging it for its vices. He brought the sinner into a position of self-respect. He lifted him to a place of confidence. He restored his hope by showing that there was one who would be a true friend to him. Men who are evil-eyed can never see any good in the fallen. They scornfully spurn any attempt to improve their morals or better the condition of these. But Jesus never despaired of anyone. That is a confirmation of his purity. To the pure all things are pure."

Society News

Mrs. Hugh Mauzy will entertain the Emanon club Wednesday afternoon at her home in North Morgan street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Mauzy have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary Louise, to George DeHority of Elwood, the wedding to take place October 12.

The Ladies Aid society of St. Paul's M. E. church will meet in the church parlors Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock. Important business is to be transacted.

Miss Louise Mauzy entertained in honor of her guest, Miss Irma Weyerbacher of Indianapolis, Saturday afternoon at one o'clock with a luncheon, at which she announced her engagement. There were twenty young ladies present.

Mrs. Eliza Newhouse entertained all her children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren and brothers and sisters with a family dinner at her home in East Second street Sunday, the day marking the end of her housekeeping career. She is seventy-eight years old and was married sixty-two years ago, all of which time she has kept up her home. Her husband died about five years ago.

Mrs. Newhouse has nine children, twenty-eight grandchildren and seven great grandchildren, all of whom were present Sunday. Out-of-town guests and those outside the immediate family included Mr. and Mrs. John H. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Tyner, Mr. and Mrs. James Tyner, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Newhouse, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. ### Perkins's Responsibility

Theodore Douglas Robinson, former state Chairman of the New York Progressives, and Prof. Fredrick M. Davenport, who was the party's candidate for governor last year, are in favor of a complete reunion between the Republican and the Progressive parties. To this end they advocate an abandonment of the Progressive organization and the enrollment of its members as Republicans. With them stands Chairman Hamlin of the Erie County Progressive Committee. Mr. Hamlin recently called his committee together at Buffalo to discuss this question and, as indicating the general lethargy which has fallen upon organized Bull Moosery, only 102 were present out of a membership of 240.

Though not a member of the committee, Mr. George W. Perkins was in attendance—presumably in his capacity as national committeeman of the Progressive party—and he violently opposed the contemplated reunion. His efforts were successful to the point that no formal resolution was passed; but all reports from the meeting are that an overwhelming majority of the committeemen favored reunion to the end that an undivided opposition may confront and defeat Democracy in the Presidential election next year.

Mr. Perkins's motives are not clear. His responsibility, however, is evident. Whatever his purpose may be, the result of the policy which he advocates can be nothing else than a continuance of the present administration in power.

No Progressive can deceive himself again. In 1912, under the stimulus of a passionate resentment and carried away by an intoxicating ardor for a great personality no less than by a thrilling devotion to certain political principles—in 1912 a Progressive might well be excused for believing that his cause and his candidates would triumph at the polls. But the election returns of that year, and of last year, have shown conclusively that organized and active Progressivism is simply a deed of gift to the Democrats. Roosevelt and Taft, in 1912, together topped Wilson by nearly a million and a half of votes. In 1914, Progressive candidates for Congress operated to retain the Democrats in control of that body. A similar program in 1916 means a continuance of Democratic ascendancy in the executive and legislative branches of the Government. It means more ill-considered and disastrous statutes; it means a further diminution of public revenues and a wider profligacy with public moneys; it means a progressing paralysis of our governmental activities—national and international; it means, to a certainty, that the United States shall find itself, when the European war is ended, striped naked to every hostile blast that shall blow across the seas whether it be military or commercial in character; it means, in short, administrative locomotor ataxia for our nation.

Yet Mr. Perkins advocates this. Why? Is he actuated by hatred, by covetousness or by envy? He may prate of "principle" as much as he pleases, but he cannot long make that a mask. He knows—none better—what Democratic administration and Democratic legislation have hitherto meant for those business and financial interests with which he has been most clearly identified. Does he not believe that those interests henceforward are to fare better at Democratic hands? If so, what is his warrant for that belief? Why does he seem so willing to accept responsibility for maintaining the Democracy in power?

Are You a Porcupine?

If you meet your neighbor and he asks you if you are a porcupine, say "yes."

The Loyal Order of Porcupines is a new movement just inaugurated in California by Lyman J. Gage, former secretary of the treasury. There is no mystery no initiation fee and no ceremony, and yet it has caught the public fancy and is growing by leaps and bounds, and is spreading all over the country, wherever people live who are loyal to our country and its flag.

The porcupine is the only animal that never bites any one and yet is never bitten. Its myriads of quills are its protection, and all other animals give it a wide berth.

Mr. Gage would have the United States in the position of the porcupine. He would have us so surrounded and girded by quills of defense that no foreign nation would care to invade our peaceful shores.

He would not have a great standing army, nor would he have us bristle with the curse of aggressive militarism; but he would have every loyal citizen possess the rudiments of military knowledge, that when the time comes we may be in a position to hurl the invader into the seas and give adequate protection to our homes and our wealth.

Like the porcupine, we are a peace loving people, and ask only to be left alone to pursue our honorable course to the end.

Are you a porcupine? Say "yes!"

Just as an experiment, suppose you give a happy smile and a cheerful greeting to every person you meet tomorrow, and by night you will need corroborating evidence of your own identity.

Don't muss up your hair or scramble your brains because some other fellow called you a liar. He may have told the truth.

Never mind the imperfections of your neighbor. If you correct your own you will be doing all the community expects of you.

The man who appears to be getting the best of the war is the Austrian archduke who was killed before it commenced.

"A girl of sixteen accepts love and a woman of thirty invites it," says a wit. And an old maid of forty grabs it.

An efficacious method of preventing your wife going through your pockets is to give her a nickel occasionally.

"Never swap horses in the middle of a stream" is good advice; but "get a good horse and don't swap" is better.

ask for the people's votes announced to the world. And with the near approach of these important events the thought is suggested that the leaders of the two great parties are speculating with rather more seriousness than the situation justifies upon the probable intentions of the Progressives. The issues between Republicans and Democrats are already clearly defined, the general plan and scope of their campaigns marked out, and organization can be accomplished speedily and with assured effectiveness. On the other hand the Progressives are at sea without compass or rudder, with no issues in sight and with no present prospect of finding a landing place.

The present tendency, if it is continued, points plainly to the party's finish. Practically it has already been reabsorbed by the G. O. P., a process clearly reflected in the last election returns. Of late there has been a rush of returning prodigals, anchored by Col. Roosevelt, who without function announces that he will "enroll as a Progressive," and advise others who consult him to do the same. Some great overshadowing issue, or some frenzied rallying cry must be invented if the Progressive party is to breathe again, and even then there may be hesitation to respond lest the note again prove false.

So, in spite of Victor Murdock's flamboyant proclamation that a winning battle is to be fought next year, the most that, from present indications, is to be apprehended from the Progressives is that they will be able to maintain some semblance of an organization, scattered though it will be, and cast their ballots with more or less unanimity for the man or measures that appeal to their fancy.

LONG TRIP TO WOODPILE.

There is one of the many stories of Settlers children carried into captivity by Indians that has a touch of honor in it. It is told of a family that lived near Pendleton, in which was a boy known for the slow movements. His mother sent him for a load of wood, saying, "Now don't be gone seven years." While on the errand he was abducted by the Indians and taken into exile. Seven years later he made his escape and returning home, he came by the woodpile and completed his errand.

Greensburg and Rushville Hope to Play Game Scheduled For Yesterday—Series Arranged.

RUSHERS IN TOUGH LUCK

The weather man took a hand in the game yesterday and as a result Rushville and Greensburg did not get to play. The teams made the trip to the ball park and were warming up when the down pour came. The rain saved either Rushville or Greensburg a defeat as both teams were confident. The Rushville teams were confident. The Rushville luck. Yesterday made five straight Sundays that it was impossible to play.

So confident is Greensburg that they have a chance with the locals that arrangements were made yesterday for a three game series. The Greensburgers will be brought back here next Sunday and the game scheduled for yesterday will be played—providing the weather man is kind.

NO PROSECUTION; CASE IS DISMISSED

Roy E. Black Fails to Put in Appearance in Case Against Charles Sorrel Today.

CONTINUANCE IS REFUSED

The case against Charles Sorrell, charged with assault on Roy Black, was dismissed this morning in police court for lack of prosecution. When the case was called a motion for a change of judge was asked and Mayor Bebout appointed Walter E. Smith to hear the case. The case was the outgrowth of the fight last week at the fair grounds. As soon as Smith took the bench a motion was filed to dismiss on account of the affidavit. This was overruled and then it was learned that the prosecuting witness was not present and Prosecutor Stevens asked for a continuance. This was denied and when forced to go to trial the state did not have any witnesses and it was necessary to dismiss the cause.

Rushville People Give Credit Where Credit is Due.

People of Rushville who suffer with weak kidneys and bad backs want a kidney remedy that can be depended upon. Doan's Kidney Pills is a medicine for the kidneys only, and one that is backed by willing testimony of Rushville people. Here's a case:

Mrs. Ella Endicott, 125 South Harrison street, Rushville, says: "One of the family suffered from severe pains through the back and had trouble in straightening after stooping. The kidneys were also irregular in action. Finally, Doan's Kidney Pills were used and they removed the trouble." Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Endicott recommends. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

ELBERT RUSSELL SUCCESSOR NEEDED

Alexander C. Purdy of Ford, Conn., Appointed Head of Educational Department at Eastern College.

WILL NOT BEGIN THIS YEAR

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 30.—(By United Press.) President Robert L. Kelham College announced that Alexander C. Purdy of Ford, Conn., had been chosen head of the college and head of the educational department. Mr. Purdy needs Elbert Russell, whose resignation and clash with President Kelly over college discipline caused turmoil at the Quaker college.

Prof. D. W. Dennis has been appointed a college preacher for the year. Dr. Dennis is a biology professor and one of the leading members of the faculty. His wife will be Professor H. Cadbury of Haverford college. Purdy will not assume his duties this year, but will continue to teach at Moses Brown school, Hudence, R. I., while he completes work for the degree of Ph. D.

Dr. Henry C. Cadbury, acting with Dr. Dennis as pastor this year and will give a bible, assisted by Thomas E. secretary of the Young People's Movement in American. Jones will preach.

Mr. Purdy is a graduate of Penn college, a Quaker school. He later took a degree at Haverford theological seminary, leading classes at both institutions. He served a two-year-old European tour and began further study in Germany, but the war kept him from return home.

ORVIL HINCHMAN DIED

Orvil Hinchman, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hinchman, died last night after a brief illness from diphtheria. The little boy had been ill several days. The funeral services will be held this afternoon at two o'clock at the residence and burial took place in East Hill cemetery.

EAST AND WEST MEET IN TENNIS

National Championship Opened Today at Forest Hills—Great Field of Talent

NICE "SCRAP" IS EXPECTED FASTEST TIME OF WEEK MADE

Finals, However, Expected to be Fought Out by Williams and McLaughlin—Large Crowd

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
 (U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

"For East is East and West is West, 'And ne'er the twain shall meet—'"

Forest Hills, L. I., Aug. 30.—Rudyard Kipling was all wrong. For the East did meet the West here today, for the national tennis championships, and there was blood in the eyes of the Western invaders. To the strictly neutral correspondent, however, there appeared to be an equal amount of gore in the orbs of the Eastern defenders, for they were fighting for the retention of their titles, and for what is infinitely dearer to Eastern hearts, the East's athletic prestige, which has suffered slightly of late. So, all things considered, early indications pointed to a "bird of a scrap." No holds were barred.

The East counted on four men to bear the brunt of the fury of the Western attack—R. Norris Williams II of Philadelphia, present holder of the national title, Karl Behr, middle states champion and all around star, Teddy Pell, possessor of a backhand stroke that has made him famous, and George Church, intercollegiate champion, and young sensation. Behind these four, in massed array, stood a galaxy of near stars, would be stars, has beens, and merely persons with white pants.

Headed by the slashing, driving titan-haired McLoughlin, far off California had four entries that represented the attacking power of Sunset section, and it was an awe-inspiring front. The Big Hope was placed on McLoughlin, of course, just as it was some time ago when the Davis cup was in danger. And a comparison of the Eastern and Western offensive and defensive strength simmered down to the question of how much chance the big pair—Williams and Behr—have of beating the comet-like westerner.

"Good chance," said the East.

"Fat chance!" said the West. And there you are.

McLoughlin has to take the offensive, as the title already is Williams. But that phrase of tennis playing, according to the red-headed one's supporters, is where he shines. One thing was pointed to by Eastern adherents—he fact that McLoughlin lowered his colors once this year at Seabright, N. J., to Kary Behr. Then Williams turned around and beat Behr. That much of the dope favored Williams today. But no tennis enthusiast has forgotten how the reserve of Wilding and Brooks last year in the Davis cup matches broke under the terrific drives and slashing returns of McLoughlin. His work at that time earned him the title of the world's best.

Flanking McLoughlin for the West's attack were "Wild Bill" Johnson, Ward Dowsan and Thomas Bundy, McLoughlin's partner in possession of the national doubles title.

Today's events were for the most part merely warmer-ups for the real matches. The rookies were being weeded out, and the underbrush cleared away for the regular fight. That the play finally would narrow down to Williams; and McLoughlin few had any doubt. Behr, while conceded to be one of the most dangerous entrants of the lot, doesn't stack up with the former pair in the opinion of tennis critics. He can be regarded, they opine, as a distinctly dangerous dark horse.

One of the largest crowds that ever attended the championships was in the stands as play commenced.

WHAT $10 DID FOR THIS WOMAN

The Price She Paid for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Which Brought Good Health.

Danville, Va.—"I have only spent ten dollars on your medicine and I feel so much better than I did when the doctor was treating me. I don't suffer any bearing down pains at all now and I sleep well. I cannot say enough for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills as they have done so much for me. I am enjoying good health now and owe it all to your remedies. I take pleasure in telling my friends and neighbors about them."—Mrs. MATTIE HALEY, 501 Colquhoun Street, Danville, Va.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Nineteen Italians on Way Back to Fight Interned at Naples.

(By United Press.)

Naples, August 30.—Nineteen Italian reservists, recalled to the colors from America, went insane on the trip to this port aboard the White Star liner Canopic which arrived today. Worry over their possible fate at the firing line is supposed to have been the cause. They were interned in an asylum here.

BREAK IN PRESS.

The big printing press at the Daily Republican office broke Saturday evening when seven hundred papers had been run, leaving about three hundred to be printed. This made it impossible to deliver papers Saturday evening to one rural route, No. 12, part of No. 11 and to points outside of the county. The paper was printed on a job printing press today. Repairs were sent for from Chicago and are expected Tuesday.

BE NO SURPRISE IF WATSON WINS

Stueben Republican, Published at Angola, Ind., Comments on His Speech There Last Week.

CONCLUDES HE IS CANDIDATE

The Stueben Republican, published at Angola, Ind., takes it as a foregone conclusion that James E. Watson of this city is a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator and expresses the opinion that it would be no surprise if he were nominated. The comment was based on a speech Mr. Watson made at Angola last Thursday. The newspaper says:

A great many of our people were pleased to hear the oration by James E. Watson, of Rushville, at the Old Settlers' celebration last Thursday, especially so since much has been heard of him since his appearance here as a candidate for governor seven years ago. He is without doubt the most widely known Indiana man in the republican party today, and nothing but a matter of expediency would prevent his nomination at this time for United States senator to succeed John W. Kern. However, as Mr. Watson meets the people throughout the state there seems to be a lessening of the feeling toward him personally, and it would not be surprising if when the votes are counted in the primaries he is found to be the choice of the people for that honor.

CHURCHES MAY CARRY OUT RISK

Industrial Board of Indiana Sends Out Special Notice Regarding Application to Law.

EXPLAINED AS TO CHURCHES

A notice has been prepared by the Industrial board of Indiana, composed of Edgar A. Perkins, Charles P. Hughes and Samuel R. Astman, relative to the application of the new workmen's compensation act to the churches.

It will be necessary for the official board of all churches to act upon this recommendation at a very early date. The notice follows:

"The attention of all church organizations should be directed to the fact that they are subject to the Workman's Compensation act, if they have anyone employed. The provisions of the act covers all employees, including pastor and janitor.

"The Industrial board has indicated its intention to exempt all churches from insuring their compensation liability, when they apply for such exemption.

"All churches desiring such exemption should promptly procure from the Industrial board form No. 47, fill it out and file it with the board. The offices of the Industrial board is in Room 34, State house."

A ten pound baby boy was born to the wife of William Bradley, colored, living in North Maple street, today.

THEORIES WILL NOT HAVE PLACE

Mississippi Valley Conference on Tuberculosis Will be Practical Discussion.

TO BE HELD IN INDIANAPOLIS

Program For Three Days Will Touch on Greatest of All Preventable Diseases.

Indianapolis, Ind., August 30. Plans are being completed here by Governor Ralston, the Chamber of Commerce and the Indiana Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis for the reception of 1,000 or more delegates to the Mississippi Valley Conference on Tuberculosis to be held in this city September 29th and 30th and October 1st.

The convention is expected to be the largest gathering of anti-tuberculosis workers ever held in America. Eighteen Middle Western States are included in the Conference and in each state, the governor is appointing from fifteen to forty delegates. There will be in addition, large representations from the health boards, hospital corps and anti-tuberculosis societies in each state.

The program for the three days will touch upon nearly every phase of the greatest of all preventable disease which each year reaps a toll of approximately 100,000 human lives in the Mississippi Valley. Physicians will discuss the best ways of diagnosing tuberculosis in the early stages while there is yet room for hope that the patient may be restored to health. Nurses and social service workers will lay strong emphasis on the prevention of the disease as applied to housing and working conditions. Representatives from anti-tuberculosis societies will bring out the best method of educating the public to the need for stringent preventive measures. Labor leaders and widely known men from the world of commerce will join in a discussion of the topic "The Best Tuberculosis Prevention," a subject that will also be handled by newspaper men of prominence, life insurance experts, city builders, delegates from state organizations of women, physicians and nurses.

The address of welcome will be delivered by Governor Ralston of Indiana; responses will be made by a number of visiting governors and then the Conference will proceed speedily to "get down to brass tacks." Theories are far fetched notions concerning the "white plague" will have little place in the discussion but on the other hand the simple, every day problems which affect the patient, the physician, the nurse, the social workers, and the community purse will be given extended consideration.

Several tuberculosis clinics for the study of incipient cases of tuberculosis will be held during the Conference. Following a discussion of Red Cross Christmas Seal campaign methods for raising money with which to finance the crusade against consumption, the delegates will review the Indianapolis Disease Prevention Day parade, which takes place on the afternoon of Friday, October 1st.

TWO JERSEYS BRING $800

John F. Boyd Makes Sale at Rush County Fair.

John F. Boyd, Jersey cattle breeder, sold three head of Jerseys, one of them a calf, partly the result of his showing at the Rush county fair last week. A Jersey bull brought three hundred dollars, a cow five hundred and a calf one hundred, bringing the total for the three up to nine hundred dollars. Mr. Boyd has shipped to Shelbyville and will show at the Shelby county fair this week. He will show at the Indiana state fair next week, but will not compete at any other state fairs because his herd is small due to the sale he held here recently. L. E. Carson of Grand Rapids, O., was the purchaser of the cattle.

WILLING TO SEE FREE FAIR TRIED

Stated Authoritatively Today President Board is Willing For Some Organization to Try it.

COUNTY COUNCIL MIGHT HELP

Indications Are That Fair Did Not Lose Anything This Year, But It Did Not Make Anything.

With the fair now a matter of history the directors and stockholders are wondering what is in store for next year. It is generally conceded that something must be done if the Rush county fair is to continue. It was stated today that the association probably broke even on the fair this year, but the question of next year is a matter that can only be guessed at with no certainty of success.

Several people have urged that the fair be made a free fair similar to that held at Connersville. The night fair held here the past two years has not proved a money maker, according to all reports. The only increased revenue is from concession men, it is stated. In regard to the free fair proposition, one of the directors stated today that the present fair board stood willing to turn the fair over to any group of men for next year to try out the free fair proposition.

This official of the fair board stated that the present management was willing to give the date to some organization that might be formed for the purpose of operating a free fair. The fair would be known as the Rush county fair and the date would be the same as in the past. If the experiment proved a success then it would be almost sure to continue as a free fair.

It was pointed out that the county council might be in favor of making an appropriation for a free fair since this body would not contribute to the fair as conducted in the past. At least one and possibly two members of the county council have expressed themselves as favorable to an appropriation for a free fair. The amount the county is entitled to give under the law would make about $2,300 and this amount would go a long way towards making the fair a success.

The present board of control does not believe it should be responsible for a free fair, according to one of the officers, but they are more than willing that some group of men or an organization take over the fair and operate it along this line next year. At the last meeting of the county council one member was heard to say that he would favor an appropriation if the fair would be turned into a free fair, as that at Connersville.

The books of the association for this year cannot be closed until some time yet, although the board will likely hold a meeting next Saturday. With the best week in several years the fair is expected to just about break even and instead of making money as it should, the board is said to feel slightly discouraged.

The county council meets next Tuesday to make appropriations for the year and if the free proposition is to be presented to this body for consideration, arrangements should be made with the present board to take over the fair.

DEAD AVIATOR WAS NATIVE OF GLENWOOD

George Williams, Who Was Killed Near Fort Wayne, Making Parachute Drop, to be Buried There.

SUSTAINED BROKEN NECK

The remains of George Williams, 23 years old, who was killed Saturday while making a parachute drop from a balloon at Sheldon, near Fort Wayne, will be brought to Glenwood Wednesday morning where burial will take place. Mr. Williams was born and reared at Glenwood and is well known there. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Williams, who now reside in Fort Wayne.

The young man met a tragic death. Williams was a successful balloonist and had made a perfect ascension to the height of about 1,000 feet. In making the parachute drop the wind carried him towards a wudoe. He saw what was coming and released the belt by which he was mackled to the parachute and dropped. He fell eighty feet into the top of a tree and crashed through the limbs to the ground. He sustained a broken neck and lived only a short time. He was unmarried and is survived by his parents and several brothers and sisters. Mrs. Catherine Beckett of Glenwood is the grandmother of young Williams.

It was stated that he had made more than five hundred successful ascensions.

ARE CLOSING IN ON FORT GRODNO

German Forces Capture Lipsk and a Second Force Approaches From the Southwest.

VON BESELER TRANSFERRED

(By United Press.) Berlin, (By Way of London), Aug. 30.—Closing in upon the Russian fortress of Grodno, German forces have captured the city of Lipsk, twenty miles west of the Grodno forts.

A second German force is approaching Grodno from the southwest. Evacuation of the fortress, the last Slav stronghold defending the Warsaw-Petrograd railway, is expected before the end of the week.

General Von Beseler, conqueror of Antwerp and Novo Georgievsk, has been transferred to the operations in the Riga district, the war office said this afternoon. His forces have surrounded the bridge at Stribrichstadt.

DENIED AT DETROIT.

(By United Press.) Detroit, Mich., August 30.—Henry Ford's secretary denied today that Ford ever applied for membership in the business men's military camp at Fort Sheridan.

COURT OPENS IN ANOTHER WEEK

Preparations Are Started For the September Term and Prospective Jurors Drawn.

NO HOLIDAY ON LABOR DAY

Changes in Court Room Expected to Improve Things—Jury Box Removed and Bench Moved Out

The summer vacation of the attorneys of the Rush county bar and for Judge Sparks is about over. The September term of the circuit court opens one week from today. The opening day of court falls on Labor day, but this is never observed in the court here as a holiday. The first day of the term will be given over to calling the docket and taking up of issues. There are no cases set for trial until Wednesday, but Judge Sparks may advance some case to an earlier hearing.

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the new term. The records in the clerk's office are all up and today the two juries, the petit and grand, were drawn. Under the law the jurors must be drawn on the Monday preceding the opening of the term. No time has been set for either of the juries to report. It is not expected that the grand jury will be called until the term is well advanced as there was a grand jury the last term of court. There are no jury trials scheduled for the first week of the term.

The grand jury is composed of following men: M. L. Stewart, Noble township; J. W. Stoten, Center; George Power, Orange; Edgar Thomas, Anderson; Charles S. Winslow, Ripley; Claude C. Thompson, Union.

The jurors composing the petit jury are as follows: Frank Legg, Washington; George W. Lawson, Anderson; Robert Gilson, Center; W. B. Morris, Union; Conrad Kiser, Ripley; Jacob Hiner, Richland; Clarence Tevis, Orange; S. H. Logan, Noble; J. T. Seull, Orange; William Kirkpatrick, Rushville; Noah Moore, Posey; N. P. Taylor, Noble.

During the summer vacation the court room has been changed and re-arranged. The jury box has been done away with an whenever there is a jury trial the chairs will be placed there. The bench has been moved out from the north wall in order that the sheriff can get to his desk without having to go completely around the court room. The new arrangement was made at the suggestion of Judge Sparks and is expected to prove better than the old.

MAY TURN SLAV FLANK

Austro-German Drive May Cut Off 300,000 Russian Troops.

(By United Press.) Lin, (By Way of London), August 30.—Three hundred thousand Russian troops are in grave danger of being cut off entirely from the armies to the north by the new Austro-German offensive in the south-east.

The right wing of this Russian army is under heavy attack by flying columns of German cavalry and large bodies of Austrian infantry. The Austro-Germans are smashing hard at the Slav front between Kovell and Lusk, threatening to turn the enemy's flank.

TRIBUTE GIVEN GEORGE F. MULL

Marion County Bar Association

Adopts Resolutions Expressing Regret at Lawyer's Death.

LAST FUNERAL RITES HERE

Body Laid to Rest in East Hill Cemetery Shortly After Five O'clock Sunday Afternoon.

The funeral of George F. Mull, was held at the Mull homestead in Manilla Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, the Rev. V. W. Tevis of this city preaching the funeral oration. The last rites were performed over the grave in East Hill cemetery shortly after five o'clock in the afternoon.

A deep tribute was paid to Mr. Mull by the Marion County bar association at a meeting held Saturday to pass a memorial on his death.

Charles Remster, former judge of the Marion circuit court, called the meeting to order and James M. Leathers, former judge of superior court, was chosen to preside. Ralph M. Ketcham acted as secretary. Among those who spoke in appreciation of Mr. Mull's career and personality were Mr. Leathers, Leonard Korbly, Maurice E. Tennant and William L. Taylor. A memorial committee was appointed as follows: Frank T. Edenharter, chairman; William L. Taylor, Frederick E. Matson, Henry Warum and Elmer W. Stout.

The resolutions expressed the opinion of the bar that Mr. Mull was of a lovable personal character and kept friends that he made professionally and socially, and that as a lawyer his standing was high. In regard to Mr. Mull's public career the resolutions said:

"He was public spirited and never shirked the duties of citizenship. He took an active interest in politics, was president of the Columbia Club in 1904 and for years treasurer of the Republican county central committee, but he never held public office nor sought it for himself.

"He was a man of great personal charm," reads the memorial. "He was modest to a degree and courteous always. He had a kind and lovable character which endeared him to all with whom he came in contact. He made many friends professionally and socially and kept them. He believed that to have a friend you must be a friend, and he acted on this principle throughout. His attitude toward persons of influence and authority, while always respectful, was at the same time always self-respecting and, to those not so favorably situated, his deportment was always generous and kindly; never overbearing or patronizing."

A tribute also was paid to his record as a lawyer and public-spirited citizen. It was noted that, despite the fact that he has been a sufferer from disease for several years, he always was optimistic and did not realize that death was near. Sympathy was conveyed to the members of Mr. Mull's family.

AT QUARANTINE DOCK.

(By United Press.) Washington, August 30.—Suspended between pontoons, submarine P-4 was at the Honolulu quarantine dock today, but no attempt had yet been made to enter the vessel, the navy department announced today.

The Misses Ver Popoon and Leona Mull will entertain Tuesday afternoon at the home of the former in Raleigh in honor of Miss Luella Elwell, who is to be married September 8.

ANOTHER REPORT HERE

Said to Show Progress Being Made by Berlin in Arabic Case.

(By United Press.)

Washington, August 30.—Another Arabic report reached the state department today. It was from Ambassador Gerard, Berlin, and was thought to contain an account of the progress the admiralty was making in getting news from its U-boat commanders.

Secretary Lansing did not make it public, saying it threw no fresh light on the Arabic case.

GERMAN REPORT EXPECTED SOON

While Awaiting Word, President

Wilson Prepares to Deal With British Order-in-Council

TWO TOPICS IN GERMAN NOTE

(By United Press.)

Washington, August 30.—Berlin's report of the Arabic case in particular and its communication concerning submarine warfare in general are expected at any time. Presidential Private Secretary Tumulty said today.

While awaiting this word from Berlin, President Wilson is overhauling the various tentative drafts the administration plans to send to London dealing with the British order-in-council and contraband order.

It is thus he has been occupying much of the time he has been able to save from his many other duties, since it became practically certain that the German-American controversy would be settled satisfactorily.

SHOULD ADJUST THE DIFFERENCES

Admiral Von Tirpitz, Creator of Submarine Policy, Would Not Disavow Arabic Attack.

DESIRES FRIENDLY POLICY

By CARL W. ACKERMAN

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Berlin (By Way of The Hague), August 30.—Grand Admiral Von Tirpitz, creator of the German submarine policy, believes with the chancellor and the foreign secretary that all differences with America should be adjusted at once.

Von Tirpitz, it is understood, does not look with favor on former disavowal of the attack on the Arabic. He desires that most friendly relations be established, but is not yet convinced this end can only be attained by repudiating the act of one of his submarine commanders.

It is an absolute fact that Germany's viewpoint is as follows: First, Germany hopes that the American government will consider the informal representations already made to be sufficient until the report of the submarine commander is received.

Second, the question of whether the action of the submarine commander shall be disavowed must rest largely on this report.

Mary A. Shropshire has filed suit on a note against the estate of Michael Shropshire, deceased, demanding $1,500.

FROST TO CLIMAX THE WET SEASON

Weather Man Not Content With Unseasonable Brand, he's Been Sending, Offers Something New

SEEMS LIKE HE'S RIGHT

Farmers Get in Some Licks at Threshing Until Sunday Noon.—Corn May be Damaged Now.

FROSTS KILL CORN.

Lacrosse, Wis., August 30.—Heavy frost accompanied by a temperature that smashed all weather department records last night killed half of the corn and tobacco crops in Wisconsin and Minnesota, according to reports coming in today.

NEW AUGUST RECORD.

Chicago, August 30.—All Chicago records for cool August weather were broken today when the thermometer read 47 above zero at 6 a. m.

As a climax to the unseasonable weather the prognosticator has been offering for more than a month, he today informs a long suffering public that there will be clearing skies and a frost.

No one doubted his word today after doing a turn in the crisp fall air and taking a glance at the thermometer. Early indications were that he had hit it on the clearing sky proposition, too. The sun began to peep through between twelve and one o'clock and it appeared that the clouds were all going to leave.

Up to one o'clock this afternoon the mercury had not gone above fifty-six degrees. Thermometers this morning registered as low as fifty degrees above zero, which is rather cold weather for August.

The farmers are disgusted. After standing by and seeing their wheat crop spoiled, they have visions of seeing their corn crop damaged. They are all agreed that what they need is hot, dry weather for three weeks or a month. All sorts of things have been reported happening to the corn to give it a set-back.

In some fields, it is said, the ground is so soft from incessant rains that the least wind has caused the heavy stalks to topple over. Of course, corn that once falls down before it has matured, is worthless.

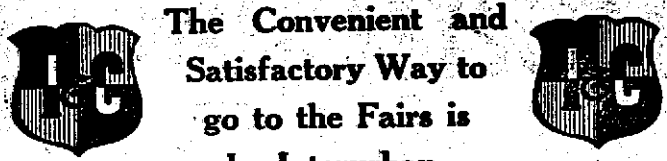

The excessive moisture has also caused the stalks to grow larger than usual and the ears have not developed as they should, it is stated. This is said to be true especially of the late corn—and there is much of that in the county. It will be remembered that due to uncertain weather conditions, the farmer who did not plant his corn very early last spring did not get it in until very late.

Farmers got in some good licks at threshing last week, many companies working up to Sunday noon when a heavy rain put an end to threshing for a day or two. Farmers adjoining the fair grounds were threshing and putting up hay last week while the fair was in progress.

Some threshing companies worked a wrinkle on the wet wheat. They threw out all the bundles on the outside of the shock and threshed the driest bundles first. Then they threshed the wet bundles and if they found the wheat too wet, they either put it in the barn and tried to dry it or saved it to feed to the hogs.

The Maryland Casualty Company of Baltimore, has filed a petition in the circuit court to be released from the bond of John A. Grubbs, guardian.

NO PEACE FOR STEEL INDUSTRY

Federal Commission in Report Says
Iron Workers and Erectors
Must Get Together.

BOTH SIDES MUST CONCEDE

Physical Force Will Not Establish
Fair Relations on Either Side
it is Pointed Out.

(By United Press.)
Chicago, Aug. 30.—There cannot be peace in the structural steel industry under present conditions; the erectors' association and the officers of the structural bridge and iron workers must get together with idea of making concessions on both sides.

This epitomizes the recommendations made in the report of Luke Grant who investigated the situation. The report was published this afternoon.

Throat, the report emphasizes that facts unearthed tend to prove that in all the bitter fight between the steel workers and the employers, where in there was espionage, physical clashes and violence (the worst of the latter being the series of dynamiting, now history) both sides were equally to blame—that it was the old six of one and a round half dozen of the other.

Also, throughout, the report points out that "application of physical force will neither establish nor maintain just the fair relations between employers and employees." In this respect the report says: "Many instances might be cited in the industrial world, where the use of physical force has, for a time, won advantage for the side that has used it. Such gains, however, are temporary and do not make for permanent industrial peace.

"An employer may at times through force of circumstances be compelled to submit to certain conditions which he believes are unjust. Fear of violence and the destruction of property may cause him to make terms with a union against his will and business judgement. But if he is forced to submit through fear of business necessity, he will break from the restraint on the first opportunity.

"Workingmen on the other hand may be compelled to submit to conditions which they regard as irksome, if the advantage is on the side of the employer. They submit sullenly, because they are compelled to do so by force of circumstances. Instead of co-operating with their employers under such conditions they are constantly looking for the day when they can turn the tables and get the upper hand.

"Force may subjugate one side or the other in an industrial dispute, but it will not remove discontent. It will not establish justice. When there is injustice there will be discontent.

"The abuse of power is not always on the side of the employer. Where unions are in complete control, abuses are as apt to develop as where the employers exercise absolute power."

During the campaign between structural iron workers and their employers, the report declares, there was too much uncompromising attitude on both sides. The ironworkers, it is declared, were the first to display an uncompromising attitude. "But" continues the report, "when the union later realized its mistake and offered to compromise it was the American Bridge Company that assumed the uncompromising attitude."

It is pointed out that the structural iron worker, realizing he is out of work one-fourth of his time under normal conditions naturally through the union seeks to extend his trade jurisdiction as much as possible and prevent laborers from doing work he otherwise would do.

The fight was not alone one for "the open shop" but also, as the ironworkers believed, for the very life of the organization through which they were certain lay their only route to better wages. And the fight for open shop, the report says is at bottom, "a fight for the increased profits for the employers." Comparison of open shop scale is considerably lower. "The open shop policy as understood and practiced by the National Erectors' Association," declared the report, "means destruction of the union."

The report nally declares that the unions, finding themselves unmatched in their fight, "hit below the belt to turn the tide in their favor." But it is declared that the erectors were in a degree, responsible, "through their pernicious system of espionage and spy work in the halls of the unions."

FOREIGN DENTISTS ATTEND

Pacific Meeting.

(By United Press.)
San Francisco, Aug. 30.—Dentists from all parts of the world are attending the Panama Pacific Dental Congress. With over 3,000 delegates already registered, this meeting is the largest in the history of the profession.

Both the Central and South American republics are fully represented, Chili alone sending 22 delegates. Japan is represented by 20.

The National Dental Association, numbering thousands of members, is represented on the program. Other dental organizations holding separate meetings are the California, Southern California, Utah and the International Dental Federation.

One of the interesting features of the congress is an exhibit showing the latest methods of treating the mouth and teeth.

TODAY'S HOOSIER ODDITY.

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, August 30.—The recent funeral of a well-known woman here was attended by strange circumstances.
The funeral was delayed six days to await the arrival of a domestic long with the family.
When the funeral procession had started it was cut in two at a street intersection by another funeral going to another cemetery. Not seeing this error, half of the carriages followed the wrong funeral to the wrong cemetery.
When the procession in question arrived at the cemetery, it was discovered that the grave had been dug in the wrong lot and the funeral was postponed until the next day.

WONDER WORKERS

In the past there have been numerous Wonder Workers and miracles performed. In this present age there has been no wonder worker equal to Wolcott's Little Wonder Workers. For that tired feeling and run-down condition due to torpid liver and constipation which causes stomach trouble, jaundice, gall stones, nervous trouble, kidney difficulties, etc., they certainly work wonders. Easy to take because so small and besides one or two at a dose will act gently but freely without gripe and will not get you out of bed too early in the morning. Mr. Wolcott is sending these Little Wonder Workers all over the United States, only through the recommendations of those who have used them, as he has never spent any money advertising them up to this time. He wants more to know of their wonder working power, and will cheerfully refund the money if not more than satisfied with their work. 40 doses for 25 cents at Wolcott's Drug Store. 14516

WINONA OFFERED AT AUCTION SALE

Famous Assembly Under Hammer
Today as Last Step in Bankrupt Proceedings.

BRYAN WILL BE PRESIDENT

Promised to Become Head of Institution When Reorganization is Made—Plan Arranged

(By United Press.)
Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 30.—Winona Assembly, the home of one of the world's greatest chautauques and the world's greatest bible conference was to be sold under the auctioneer's hammer today. It is a bankrupt institution.

When that hammer falls and Trustee Lloyd D. Claycombe announces the property sold, the institution will be entirely freed of its debt. It will then be ready to request of William Jennings Bryan that he fulfill his promise and become president of the assembly.

Mr. Bryan, who was an interested spectator at today's proceedings, awaited only the assurance that Winona is on a firm financial basis to announce his readiness to become president. His election may come within a week.

The announced plan for today was that a new organization composed largely of the old management and fortified by much new capital should bid in the Presbyterian institution at $100,000 the appraised valuation of the property. This appraisal was made on the basis of a Winona assembly not in existence. However, several million dollars are invested, and the property to be sold is declared worth many times the appraised valuation.

Winona assembly was declared to be bankrupt early this year in federal court. Schedules filed by creditors showed the debts to be about $900,000.

Br. Bryan gave his promise to become president of Winona several years ago, when he and Dr. Sol C. Dickey, general manager of Winona made a wide canvass, raising nearly $100,000 for re-organization purposes. Bryan withdrew his offer. Instead he recently gave substantial proof of his interest by pledging $1,000 towards the fund that will place the debt-ridden institution on a firm basis.

The plan of settlement already arranged, which will be carried out if the old management, dominates the new organization, provides for a distribution of all the property, excepting the auditorium, administration building, entrance building and a few others necessary for carrying on their business. Each creditor is to receive stock in the various big hotels, cottages, farms, lots and other property equal to his claim. These properties are expected to increase in value under property management.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active." Without these as a basis, the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes sallow, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face.
"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is largely as an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be confused with real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'santanel' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. They are a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been made into the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unsightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowel—and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. In such cases, the remedy is to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been made into the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "santanel" tablet, a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.
Santanel tablets, aside from their efficiency, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "habit-forming" action of the injurious membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they aid tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpressible popularity is another reason for the popularity of santanel tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideas remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Druggists Review.

TO THE PURE ALL THINGS ARE PURE

Rev. A. D. Batchelor Says Only Evil-Mind Sees The Bad Instead of The Good Side

APPLIES THOUGHT TO LIFE

Sinful Persons Are Usually Suspicious And The Pure Are Unsuspecting.

To the pure all things are pure, but to the impure in mind all things are impure, was the thought, the Rev. A. D. Batchelor carried out in his sermon at St. Paul's M. E. church Sunday night, speaking on the subject, "Conscience and Corruption."

The selected text from Titus, 1:15: "To the pure all things are pure; but to them that are defiled and unbelieving nothing is pure; but both their mind their conscience are defiled. He said in part:

"The world takes on the color of our glasses. To one with an evil mind others will appear to be evil. The sinful are usually suspicious; the pure unsuspecting. Let us observe first, that the pure man puts a right construction on things. He views the life of everybody in the light of his own conscience. The defiled man reflects his corruption in his estimate of others. Scator in 'Sons of Strength' relates that he found a book in a secondhand book store which was well penciled by an unknown reader. He adds that the underscoring reflected a wholesome mind. For every virtuous sentiment and courtly word was marked. Later he picked up the same book in a library. It was penciled too. But the penciled betrayed a different type of mind. All that was unlovely, all that could prompt a corrupt imagery was underscored. To the pure all things are pure.

"The pure minded is free from consciousness. He will find something in every life to command. He will not seek to ruin another life with a damaging criticism. The bee extracts honey from the bitter plants. The pure finds something sweet and salutary in the lives of the worst men. It is more to our credit to approach a life on its best side. The caustic criticism that evil minded hurl at the lives of good men reminds one of the Arab who found a single white hair in the tuft of a lion's tale, and then proclaimed in verse something about 'Him with the single white hair.' He began at the head and examined the whole carcass in verse—not a white hair anywhere but in the tuft of the tail. The poet said nothing about the power of the lion.

"The pure man has charity for the wrong-doer. He gives evidence of his purity when draws the mantle of charity over his brother's faults. Henry Ward Beecher said, 'Every man should keep a fair sized cemetery in which to bury the faults of his friends.' A painter who was commissioned to paint the picture of a Macedonian emperor, sketched his sovereign leaning on his elbow with his hand covering a hideous scar on his forehead. What would the emperor have thought if the painter had not only painted the scar, but also had magnified it. It is a sign of a pure mind to place the finger of charity upon the scars of our erring brethren.

"The pure has compassion for the transgressor. He sees the possibility of good in others. Jesus criticized no sinner but the hypocrite. He has compassion upon the sinner and the publican. He knew they were sick of sin and would gladly give it up could they find a place of confidence in the minds of men. But the hypocrite was not amenable to conscience. He saw only in Christ, while the despised sinner saw in him one who sympathized and could save. Christ's way was not the way of denunciation. He could have found many ugly sins in the lives of men which he could have pilloried and at which he could have pointed a finger of scorn.

"But his pure mind saw a better way. It was to reach men through his tenderness and sympathy. The scripture says of him that he would not break the bruised reed, nor quench the smoking flax. He came not to condemn the world, but to save it. He knew he could not save it by scourging it for its vices. He brought the sinner into a position of self-respect. He lifted him to a place of confidence. He restored his hope by showing that there was one who would a true friend to him. Men who are evil-eyed can never see any good in the fallen. They scornfully spurn any attempt to improve their morals or better the condition of these. But Jesus never despaired of anyone. That is a confirmation of his purity. To the pure all things are pure."

Mrs. Hugh Mauzy will entertain the Emanon club Wednesday afternoon at her home in North Morgan street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Mauzy have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary Louise, to George Dellority of Elwood, the wedding to take place October 12.

The Ladies Aid society of St. Paul's M. E. church will meet in the church parlors Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock. Important business is to be transacted.

Miss Louise Mauzy entertained in honor of her guest, Miss Irma Weyerbacher of Indianapolis, Saturday afternoon at one o'clock with a luncheon, at which she announced her engagement. There were twenty young ladies present.

Mrs. Eliza Newhouse entertained all her children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren and brothers and sisters with a family dinner at her home in East Second street Sunday, the day marking the end of her housekeeping career. She is seventy-eight years old and was married sixty-two years ago, all of which time she has kept up her home. Her husband died about five years ago.

Mrs. Newhouse has nine children, twenty-eight grand children and seven great grandchildren, all of whom were present Sunday. Out-of-town guests and those outside the immediate family included Mr. and Mrs. John H. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Tyner, Mr. and Mrs. James Tyner, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Newhouse, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Montrose and daughters Beverly and Rosaline, all of Greenfield; Mrs. Elta Linn and daughter Lucile of Indianapolis and Mr. and Mrs. Cicero Newhouse and Mrs. Alice Newhouse of this city. Mrs. Newhouse will make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Abernathy.

Wilbur Bally, a pupil of Vernon Castle, will open a dancing school in the Phi-Delta Hall, Wednesday evening, Sept. 1st. For particulars phone 1227. 14512

MILITARY GUARDS CAUSED NEGRO

Joe DeBerry Charged With Woman's Murder Closely Watched Because of Being Negro

THE NEGRO WORK A RUSE

(Associated Press.)

Muncie, Ill., August 30.—Repeated acts of lynching caused authorities to keep a close guard around here when Joe DeBerry, a Negro, was tried today for the murder of Mrs. J. H. Martin, wife of a prominent lawyer, who himself died of the shock following his death.

DeBerry was rushed here at midnight by state troops when a mob of about a hundred gathered around the Harrisburg, Ill., and demanded that DeBerry be turned over to them. He was taken out by a train brought here by train. A crowd of about a hundred met this party and with mutterings of lynching, three companies of Illinois militia will guard DeBerry until he is removed.

Perkins's Responsibility

Theodore Douglas Robinson, former state Chairman of the New York Progressives, and Prof. Fredrick M. Davenport, who was the party's candidate for governor last year, are in favor of a complete reunion between the Republican and the Progressive parties. To this end they advocate an abandonment of the Progressive organization and the enrollment of its members as Republicans. With them stands Chairman Hamlin of the Erie County Progressive Committee. Mr. Hamlin recently called his committee together at Buffalo to discuss this question and, as indicating the general lethargy which has fallen upon organized Bull Moosery, only 102 were present out of a membership of 240.

Though not a member of the committee, Mr. George W. Perkins was in attendance—presumably in his capacity as national committeeman of the Progressive party—and he violently opposed the contemplated reunion. His efforts were successful to the point that no formal resolution was passed; but all reports from the meeting are that an overwhelming majority of the committeemen favored reunion to the end that an undivided opposition may confront and defeat Democracy in the Presidential election next year.

Mr. Perkins's motives are not clear. His responsibility, however, is evident. Whatever his purpose may be, the result of the policy which he advocates can be nothing else than a continuance of the present administration in power.

No Progressive can deceive himself again. In 1912, under the stimulus of a passionate resentment and carried away by an intoxicating ardor for a great personality no less than by a thrilling devotion to certain political principles—in 1912 a Progressive might well be excused for believing that his cause and his candidates would triumph at the polls. But the election returns of that year, and of last year, have shown conclusively that organized and active Progressivism is simply a deed of gift to the Democrats. Roosevelt and Taft, in 1912, together topped Wilson by nearly a million and a half of votes. In 1914, Progressive candidates for Congress operated to retain the Democrats in control of that body. A similar program in 1916 means a continuance of Democratic ascendancy in the executive and legislative branches of the Government. It means more all considered and disastrous disaster to the nation. Further dissolution of public revenues and a wider profligacy with public moneys; it means a progressing paralysis of our governmental activities—national and international—it means, to a certain extent, that the United States shall find itself, when the European war is ended, stripped naked to every hostile blast that shall blow across the seas whether it be military or commercial in character; it means, in short, administrative locomotor ataxia for our nation.

Yet Mr. Perkins advocates this. Why? Is he actuated by hatred, by covetousness or by envy? He may prate of "principle" as much as he pleases, but he cannot long make that a mask. He knows—none better—that Democratic administration and Democratic legislation have hitherto meant for those business and financial interests with which he has been most clearly identified. Does he not believe that those interests henceforward are to fare better at Democratic hands? If so, what is his warrant for that belief? Why does he seem so willing to accept responsibility for maintaining the Democracy in power?

Are You a Porcupine?

If you meet your neighbor and he asks you if you are a porcupine, say "yes."

The Loyal Order of Porcupines is a new movement just inaugurated in California by Lyman J. Gage, former secretary of the treasury. There is no mystery no initiation fee and no ceremony, and yet it has caught the public fancy and is growing by leaps and bounds, and is spreading all over the country, wherever people live who are loyal to our country and its flag.

The porcupine is the only animal that never bites any one and yet is never bitten. Its myriads of quills are its protection, and all other animals give it a wide berth.

Mr. Gage would have the United States in the position of the porcupine. He would have us so surrounded and girded by quills of defense that no foreign nation would care to invade our peaceful shores.

He would not have a great standing army, nor would he have us bristle with the curse of aggressive militarism; but he would have every loyal citizen possess the rudiments of military knowledge, that when the time comes we may be in a position to hurl the invader into the seas and give adequate protection to our homes and our wealth.

Like the porcupine, we are a peace loving people, and ask only to be left alone to pursue our honorable course to the end.

Are you a porcupine? Say "yes!"

Just as an experiment, suppose you give a happy smile and a cheerful greeting to every person you meet tomorrow, and by night you will need corroborating evidence of your own identity.

Don't muss up your hair or scramble your brains because some other fellow called you a liar. He may have told the truth.

Never mind the imperfections of your neighbor. If you correct your own you will be doing all the community expects of you.

The man who appears to be getting the best of the war is the Austrian archduke who was killed before it commenced.

"A girl of sixteen accepts love and a woman of thirty invites it," says a wit. And an old maid of forty grabs it.

An efficacious method of preventing your wife going through your pockets is to give her a nickel occasionally.

"Never swap horses in the middle of a stream" is good advice; but "get a good horse and don't swap" is better.

ask for the people's votes announced in the world. And while the near approach of these important events the thought is suggested that the leaders of the two great parties are speculating with rather more seriousness than the situation justifies upon the probable intentions of the Progressives. The issues between Republicans and Democrats are already clearly defined, the general plan and scope of their campaigns marked out, and organization can be accomplished speedily and with assured effectiveness. On the other hand the Progressives are at sea without compass or rudder, with no issues in sight, and with no present prospect of finding a landing place.

The present tendency, if it is continued, points plainly to the party's finish. Practically it has already been reabsorbed by the G. O. P., a process clearly reflected in the last election returns. Of late there has been a rush of returning prodigals, unhedged by Col. Roosevelt, who will "enroll as a Progressive," and advise others who consult him to do the same. Some great overshadowing issue, or some frenzied rallying cry must be invented if the Progressive party is to breathe again, and even then there may be hesitation to respond lest the note again prove false.

So, in spite of Victor Murdock's flamboyant proclamation that a winning battle is to be fought next year, the most that from present indications, is to be apprehended from the Progressives is that they will be able to maintain some semblance of an organization, scattered though it will be, and cast their ballots with more or less unanimity for the man or measures that appeal to their fancy.

Roy E. Black Fails to Put in Appearance in Case Against Charles Sorrell Today

CONTINUANCE IS REFUSED

The case against Charles Sorrell, charged with assault on Roy Black, was dismissed this morning in police court for lack of prosecution. When the case was called a motion for a change of judge was asked and Mayor Bebout appointed Walter E. Smith to hear the case. The case was the outgrowth of the fight last week at the fair grounds.

As soon as Smith took the bench a motion was filed to dismiss on account of the affidavit. This was overruled and then it was learned that the prosecuting witness was not present and Prosecutor Stevens asked for a continuance. This was denied and when forced to go to trial the state did not have any witnesses and it was necessary to dismiss the cause.

Alexander C. Purdy of Ford, Conn. Appointed Head of Educational Department at Eastern

WILL NOT BEGIN THIS YEAR

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 30.—(By United Press.) President Robert L. Kellham College announced that Alexander C. Purdy of Ford, Conn., had been chosen head of the college and head of the department. Mr. Purdy's resignation and clash with the faculty over college discipline caused the change.

Prof. D. W. Dennis has appointed a college preacher for the year. Dr. Dennis is a theology professor and one of the ranking members of the faculty. He will be Professor of Cadbury of Haverford college. Purdy will not assume his duties this year, but will continue to teach at Moses Brown school, hence, R. I., while he completes work for the degree of Ph. D.

Dr. Henry C. Caggs met with Dr. Dennis as for this year and will give a course, assisted by Thomas E. Caggs, secretary of the Young People's Movement in American. Joe will preach.

Mr. Purdy is a graduate of Penn college, a Quaker school. He later took a degree at Harvard theological seminary, leading classes at both institutions. He moved a two-year-old European citizenship and began further study in Germany, but the war came to return home.

EAST AND WEST MEET IN TENNIS

National Championship Opened Today at Forest Hills—Great Field of Talent

NICE "SCRAP" IS EXPECTED

Finals, However, Expected to be Fought Out by Williams And McLaughlin—Large Crowd

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
(U. S. Staff Correspondent.)
"For East is East and West is West, And ne'er the twain shall meet—"
Forest Hills, L. I., Aug. 30.—Rudyard Kipling was all wrong. For the East did meet the West here today, for the national tennis championships, and there was blood in the eyes of the Western invaders. To the strictly neutral correspondent, however, there appeared to be an equal amount of gore in the orbs of the Eastern defenders, for they were fighting for the retention of their titles, and for what is infinitely dearer to Eastern hearts, the East's athletic prestige, which has suffered slightly of late. So, all things considered, early indications pointed to a "bird of a scrap." No holds were barred.

The East counted on four men to bear the brunt of the fury of the Western attack—R. Norris Williams II of Philadelphia, present holder of the national title, Karl Behr, middle states champion and all around star, Teddy Pell, possessor of a backhand stroke that has made him famous, and George Church, intercollegiate champion, and young sensation. Behind these four, in massed array, stood a galaxy of near stars, would be stars, has beens, and merely persons with white pants.

Headed by the slashing, driving titan-haired McLoughlin, far off California had four entries that represented the attacking power of Sunset section, and it was an awe-inspiring front. The Big Hope was placed on McLoughlin, of course, just as it was some time ago when the Davis cup was in danger. And a comparison of the Eastern and Western offensive and defensive strength simmered down to the question of how much chance the big pair—Williams and Behr—have of beating the comet-like westerner.

"Good chance," said the East.

"Fat chance!" said the West. And there you are.

McLoughlin has to take the offensive, as the title already is Williams. But that phrase of tennis playing, according to the red-headed one's supporters, is where he shines. One thing was being pointed to by Eastern adherents—he fact that McLoughlin lowered his colors once this year at Seabright, N. J., to Kary Behr. Then Williams turned around and beat Behr. That much of the dope favored Williams today. But no tennis enthusiast has forgotten how the reserve of Wilding and Brooks last year in the Davis cup matches broken under the terrific drives and slashing returns of McLoughlin. His work at that time earned him the title of the world's best.

Flanking McLoughlin for the West's attack were "Wild Bill" Johnson, Ward Downson and Thomas Bundy, McLoughlin's partner in possession of the national doubles title.

Today's events were for the most part merely warmer-ups for the real matches. The rookies were being weeded out, and the underbrush cleared away for the regular fight. That the play finally would narrow down to Williams; and McLoughlin few had any doubt. Behr, while conceded to be one of the most dangerous entrants of the lot, doesn't stack up with the former pair in the opinion of tennis critics. He can be regarded, they opine, as a distinctly dangerous dark horse.

One of the largest crowds that ever attended the championships was in the stands as play commenced.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh of the Bladder. It is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. E. J. Cheney's Catarrh Pills, taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

RESERVISTS GO INSANE

Nineteen Italians on Way Back to Fight Interned at Naples.

(By United Press.)

Naples, August 30.—Nineteen Italian reservists, recalled to the colors from America, went insane on the trip to this port aboard the White Star liner Canopic which arrived today. Worry over their possible fate at the firing line is supposed to have been the cause. They were interned in an asylum here.

BREAK IN PRESS.

The big printing press at the Daily Republican office broke Saturday evening when seventeen hundred papers had been run, leaving about three hundred to be printed. This made it impossible to deliver papers Saturday evening to one rural route, No. 12, part of No. 11 and to points outside of the county. The paper was printed on a job printing press today. Repairs were sent for from Chicago and are expected Tuesday.

BE NO SURPRISE IF WATSON WINS

Stueben Republican, Published at Angola, Ind., Comments on His Speech There Last Week.

CONCLUDES HE IS CANDIDATE

The Stueben Republican, published at Angola, Ind., takes it as a foregone conclusion that James E. Watson of this city is a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator and expresses the opinion that it would be no surprise if he were nominated. The comment was based on a speech Mr. Watson made at Angola last Thursday. The newspaper says:

A great many of our people were pleased to hear the oration by James E. Watson, of Rushville, at the Old Settlers' celebration last Thursday, especially so since much has been heard of him since his appearance here as a candidate for governor seven years ago. He is without doubt the most widely known Indiana man in the republican party today, and nothing but a matter of expediency would prevent his nomination at this time for United States senator to succeed John W. Kern. However, as Mr. Watson meets the people throughout the state there seems to be a lessening of the feeling toward him personally, and it would not be surprising if when the votes are counted in the primaries he is found to be the choice of the people for that honor.

MRS. SARAH PLUMMER DEAD

Widow of Late Ben Plummer Succumbs to Cancer Today.

Mrs. Sarah Plummer, 70 years old, widow of the late Ben Plummer, died shortly after noon today at her home in Jersey City following a long illness from cancer. Mrs. Plummer had been critically ill for the past week and her death was not unexpected. She is survived by two sons, Cleve and Narda Plummer and two step-daughters. The funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock at the late residence.

CHURCHES MAY CARRY OUT RISK

Industrial Board of Indiana Sends Out Special Notice Regarding Application to Law.

EXPLAINED AS TO CHURCHES

A notice has been prepared by the Industrial board of Indiana, composed of Edgar A. Perkins, Charles P. Hughes and Samuel R. Astman, relative to the application of the new workmen's compensation act to the churches.

It will be necessary for the official board of all churches to act upon this recommendation at a very early date. The notice follows:

"The attention of all church organizations should be directed to the fact that they are subject to the Workman's Compensation act, if they have anyone employed. The provisions of the act covers all employees, including pastor and janitor. The Industrial board has indicated its intention to exempt all churches from insuring their compensation liability, when they apply for such exemption.

"All churches desiring such exemption should promptly procure from the Industrial board form No. 47, fill it out and file it with the board. The offices of the Industrial board is in Room 34, State house."

A ten pound baby boy was born to the wife of William Bradley, colored, living in North Maple street, today.

THEORIES WILL NOT HAVE PLACE

Mississippi Valley Conference on Tuberculosis Will be Practical Discussion.

TO BE HELD IN INDIANAPOLIS

Program For Three Days Will Touch on Greatest of All Preventable Diseases.

Indianapolis, Ind., August 30. Plans are being completed here by Governor Ralston, the Chamber of Commerce and the Indiana Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis for the reception of 1,000 or more delegates to the Mississippi Valley Conference on Tuberculosis to be held in this city September 29th and 30th and October 1st.

The convention is expected to be the largest gathering of anti-tuberculosis workers ever held in America. Eighteen Middle Western States are included in the Conference and in each state, the governor is appointing from fifteen to forty delegates. There will be in addition, large representations from the health boards, hospital corps and anti-tuberculosis societies in each state.

The program for the three days will touch upon nearly every phase of the greatest of all preventable disease which each year reaps a toll of approximately 100,000 human lives in the Mississippi Valley. Physicians will discuss the best ways of diagnosing tuberculosis in the early stages while there is yet room for hope that the patient may be restored to health. Nurses and social service workers will lay strong emphasis on the prevention of the disease as applied to housing and working conditions. Representatives from anti-tuberculosis societies will bring out the best method of educating the public to the need for stringent preventive measures. Labor leaders and widely known men from the world of commerce will join in a discussion of the topic "The Best Tuberculosis Prevention," a subject that will also be handled by newspaper men of prominence, life insurance experts, city builders, delegates from state organizations of women, physicians and nurses.

The address of welcome will be delivered by Governor Ralston of Indiana; responses will be made by a number of visiting governors and then the Conference will proceed speedily to "get down to brass tacks." Theories are far fetched notions concerning the "white plague" will have little place in the discussion but on the other hand the simple, every day problems which affect the patient, the physician, the nurse, the social workers, and the community purse will be given extended consideration.

Several tuberculosis clinics for the study of incipient cases of tuberculosis will be held during the Conference. Following a discussion of Red Cross Christmas Seal campaign methods for raising money with which to finance the crusade against consumption, the delegates will review the Indianapolis Disease Prevention Day parade, which takes place on the afternoon of Friday, October 1st.

SECOND CASE DISMISSED

Other Indictment Against James Gibson Not Pressed Today.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., August 30.—James (Bud) Gibson, who recently changed his plea from not guilty to guilty in the big election conspiracy case involving Democratic leaders, thus indicating that he will turn state's evidence in the trial of Joseph E. Bell, will not be tried on the second conspiracy indictment. On the motion of Prosecutor Rucker this indictment was not pressed today.

C. J. Barley of Fort Wayne transacted business here today.

TWO JERSEYS BRING $800

John F. Boyd Makes Sale at Rush County Fair.

John F. Boyd, Jersey cattle breeder, sold three head of Jerseys, one of them a calf, partly the result of his showing at the Rush county fair last week. A Jersey bull brought three hundred dollars, a cow five hundred and a calf one hundred, bringing the total for the three up to nine hundred dollars. Mr. Boyd has shipped to Shelbyville and will show at the Shelby county fair this week. He will show at the Indiana state fair next week, but will not compete at any other state fairs because his herd is small due to the sale he held here recently. L. E. Carson of Grand Rapids, O., was the purchaser of the cattle.

WANTS TO BE A "ROOKIE"

Henry Ford Applies to Take Part in Citizens Military Camp.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Henry Ford, multi-millionaire automobile manufacturer, will be a private in the ranks at the Fort Sheridan military camp for business men. Colonel Frederick today accepted the Detroit man's application. Ford was one of the first applicants for permission to be a "rookie."

WILL REJECT PLEA.

(By United Press.)

Washington, August 30.—General Carranza was believed to be in Mexico City today. His junta here looked for his reply by Tuesday at the latest to the Pan-American peace plea. It was deemed certain it would be a rejection.

The schools of Rushville township, outside of the city, will open next Monday, September 6.
